CLINICAL EXPERIENCE:

Mr Venkat is a highly experienced Consultant Orthopaedic Surgeon with over 30 years of expertise in trauma and elective orthopaedic surgery. He currently practices at the North East London NHS Treatment Centre, based within King George Hospital, Ilford, Essex.

His specialist interests include hip and knee joint replacement surgery, hand, shoulder and wrist surgery, sports injuries, spinal and general trauma. He also has extensive experience in performing interlocking nailing for long bone fractures and arthroscopic (keyhole) knee procedures.

Mr Venkat began his consultant career at the Royal Orthopaedic Hospital in Birmingham, where he managed patient care independently and conducted regular outpatient clinics. He continues to provide a comprehensive orthopaedic service covering trauma management, joint reconstruction, and minimally invasive surgery.

He completed advanced surgical training at leading UK institutions, including the Royal National Orthopaedic Hospital (London and Birmingham), Addenbrooke's Hospital (Cambridge), and the Princess Margaret Rose Orthopaedic Hospital (Edinburgh). Mr Venkat also undertook specialist fellowships in joint replacement and arthroscopic surgery under renowned mentors Mr Souter and Mr David Dandy.

Dedicated to high-quality patient care, Mr Venkat works closely with multidisciplinary teams and actively participates in clinical audit and research to advance best practices in orthopaedic surgery.
