DR TERESA KELLY

MB, CHB, FRCOG, MA

CONSULTANT
OBSTETRICIAN

Dr Kelly has been a Consultant in Obstetrics since 1999. She is a key member of the tertiary Maternal Medicine service at St Mary's Hospital in Manchester, which delivers approximately 14,000 women annually, with 9,200 deliveries on her site. In addition to providing general high-risk obstetric care, she conducts level 2 obstetric scanning and offers support to her colleagues in challenging clinical scenarios. Dr Kelly is known for her commitment to delivering safe, evidence-based, patient-focused care and has experience working in both tertiary units and district general hospitals.

Dr Kelly has actively contributed to improving maternity services through various roles. In 2015, she was part of the RCOG-invited review team for East Kent Hospitals University NHS Foundation Trust, and later participated in a subsequent review for NHS England and NHS Improvement, which helped guide improvement initiatives within the Trust. Additionally, she was involved in diagnostic reviews and stabilisation plans for maternity services at North Manchester, highlighting her dedication to raising standards and reducing avoidable harm in healthcare.

As a respected expert in her field, Dr Kelly has conducted investigations related to medical staff concerns and maintained high professional standards in the NHS. She has also served on expert panels to review clinical incidents and complaints, aiming to improve communication with the local community and enhance complaint handling processes in healthcare settings.

In her role as Chair of Directorate for Women's and Children's Services, Dr Kelly led the strategic planning for the closure and reintegration of maternity services at Salford Royal Hospitals, ensuring a smooth transition for patients and staff across multiple units.

Furthermore, Dr Kelly is actively involved with organisations such as HSIB, Each Baby Counts, and the CQC, gaining valuable insights into the diversity of maternity services across England.
